FORMAL ISSUANCE OF HEALTH ORDER NO. 28

Pursuant to the Declarations of a State of Emergency and the Necessity of a Communicable Disease Control Measures
by Shelby County Mayor Lee Harris and the Shelby County Health Department

TO: Residents, Visitors, and Owners/Operators of Services, Facilities, and/or Businesses in Shelby County, Tennessee

RE: Public Health Announcement on COVID-19 Response

For months now, Shelby County continues to be a “substantial or high transmission” rate county. Our average cases per day have risen since mid-October. Most of the United States is in the same or similar position. It is time to be safe and prepare for the likely next stage of the pandemic: a virus that is endemic to our county and country. Unfortunately, there is a great deal of confusion among everyone in Tennessee about what guidance to follow. Shelby County has a community of over 930,000 urban residents, as well as rural county neighbors, all of whom have been excellent partners in efforts to stop the virus. The Shelby County Health Department, as a public health guide for Shelby County and surrounding areas, strives to be responsive to the needs of public health and responsible in its approach to protecting people in all our communities.

While the Department is shifting to a “highly recommended” approach to most measures for protecting yourself from contracting COVID-19. There are a few required measures, including a notice requirement to tenants facing eviction about rental assistance and a mask requirement for schools that are covered by the Americans with Disabilities Act. The Department remains present and available to provide public health guidance on any matter related to the COVID-19 pandemic as well as the many other public health challenges existing now or those that may occur in the future. The Department has provided this service for decades and will continue to serve for decades to come.

Currently, the Department highly recommends that businesses continue to require masks in indoor public settings and continue to quarantine and isolate pursuant to CDC guidance. Masks and isolation protocols are required in schools that are covered by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) until such time as children aged 5 and over can get fully vaccinated and due to the absence of a reliable approach by schools in providing a reasonable accommodation to children with disabilities. Masks and isolation protocols are highly recommended in schools that are not covered by the ADA. That a school is not legally required to provide an accommodation does not mean that they should not, especially during a pandemic that has killed thousands of American residents. The Department considers in-person learning a vital component of education and pediatric health, and taking these simple measures makes our schools safe for children, teachers, employees, and visitors.

If you work at or attend a school that must comply with the ADA, you must isolate if you test positive for COVID-19. Anyone anywhere in Shelby County who tests positive for COVID-19 should isolate according to CDC guidance, usually for 10 days if you are not vaccinated or if you have symptoms. Anyone who is a close-contact with a person who has tested positive should follow CDC guidance regarding quarantine. Please see below for more complete and specific guidance.

Lessors of Residential Properties

HUD and its PHA and private landlord partners have been taking steps to mitigate the impact of COVID-19 as each state reopens its economies. Keeping people in their homes and out of crowded or congregate settings — like homeless shelters — is a key step in helping to stop the spread of COVID-19. The best option for all is for renters to pay (or be able to pay) their rent.

Tenants and landlords may submit applications for the COVID-19 Emergency Rental & Utility Assistance Program: www.home901.org/covid-resources/.

The displacement of COVID-19 positive citizens from their homes pursuant to a writ of possession, upon the filing of eviction proceedings, without notice of available assistance by the local health department is precluded.

All inhabitants, present and/or readily available, of the dwelling which is the subject of eviction proceedings must be provided informational resources for rental assistance, food and housing instability, employment, and general health from the Shelby County Health Department and Shelby County Division of Community Services to further mitigate the secondary effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Property owners, landlords, or their hired agents must distribute the following notice concurrently with the service of process of a Forcible Entry and Detainer Action (or Summons and Complaint) to any individual against whom an FED or other eviction action is filed. The notice must be provided in English and in Spanish:
